DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-3 lack patentable utility. Applicant is simply claiming action items, i.e., the acts of obscuring, identifying, providing. There is nothing tangible and no transformation, just abstract action words. Furthermore, the claimed method is not concrete in that there is no evidence that the method necessarily increases the student's vocabulary.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Alam (602).

Art Unit: 3711

Alam discloses Vocabulary Building Game Cards.

Regarding claims 1-3

Alam teaches a vocabulary building exercise using words (see abstract and claim 1), lesser-known words in the form of definitions and root words (see col. 4, lines 1-21) and a means for scoring in the form of a scoring system (col. 4, lines 63 - 67).

Alternatively:

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mankoff et al. (651).

Mankoff discloses Vocabulary playing cards.

Regarding claims 1-3

Mankoff teaches vocabulary building cards with words and definitions, which are used to decipher the vocabulary word (see abstract, claim 1 and col. 2, lines 29-68). Mankoff further teaches means for marking (scoring) values for the cards during game play (see claim 5).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure and are cited to show the state of art with respect to features of the claimed invention.
